SENATE HAS CUT TARIFF

changes decided upon by the Senate committee, and final action will be postponed on this subject pending an estimate from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

The Senate committee made substantial additions to the free list contained in the Underwood bill. Among the more important items added are pig iron, which was taxed 3 per cent in the House bill; iron blooms, which bore a similar tax; steel ingots and billets, which were subjected to a 10 per cent tax in the House measure; cattle and sheep, also taxed 10 per cent in the Underwood bill; wheat, which carried a tax of 10 cents a bushel; Angora goat and alpaca hair, which was taxed at 20 per cent by the House, and Portland and other cements, which bore a 5 per cent import in the House bill.

In the case of the free listing of wheat, provision has been made for the imposition of a countervailing duty in cases of countries which continue to maintain a duty against the United States.

Some of the most important changes made by the Senate committee were in the metal schedule. Not only were pig, wrought, and scrap iron, ferro-manganese, iron and steel blooms, steel, and coiled ingots and steel billets and sections, but corresponding reductions were made upon many of the finished products, including structural steel. Changes were adopted in favor of American manufacturers of low-priced automobiles, and the duties on motorcycles were reduced by 15 per cent from the House rates; card clothing was classified and substantially reduced, as were also nuts and screws.

Aluminum was reduced in duty, but the alloys were unchanged. Cast iron pipe was increased from 12 to 15 per cent, the former being deemed too low for the larger diameters. Duty on lead ore was increased from one-half to three-quarters of a cent per pound, and on zinc ore, from 10 to 12 1/2 cents, and on spelter, from 10 to 15 per cent.

Sugar Schedule Changed.

The chemical schedule was not materially changed, except that certain colors which enter largely into the manufacture of cotton, woolen and other textiles which the House had put on the dutiable list were transferred to the free list. The slight increase in duty on many of the manufactures of celluloid and cyanide of potassium, cyanide of sodium were transferred to the free list.

The changes under the earthenware and glass schedule also were few. The most important were the transferring of cement, asphaltum and bitumen to the free list. Mica, common yellow earthenware, carbon, common window glass, glass lenses, were reclassified, and some of them changed slightly.

The sugar schedule which has stirred up so much strife through with one slight alteration. The Senate committee struck out "sugars tintured and colored" for fear that ultra-marine blue used in bleaching sugar might be regarded as colored matter and thereby refined sugar would become subject to a duty of 2 cents a pound.

In the tobacco schedule the provision of the Underwood bill permitting cigars with 50 per cent of tobacco produced in the Philippines and 25 per cent produced in foreign countries to be admitted free was stricken out. Only cigars and tobacco products made exclusively of Philippine tobacco are to come in without the payment of duty.

The countervailing duty on wheat and flour will be 10 cents a bushel on wheat and 5 cents a barrel on flour. It will be 30 per centum ad valorem upon all other products of wheat nature when imported from any country that maintains a duty against the United States. The rate on oats is reduced from 10 to 5 cents a bushel, and the duty on oat products is equalized by putting a rate of 25 cents per hundred-weight on oat feed.

The rate on rice, flour and meal, and broken rice suitable only for brewery purposes, has been increased slightly over the House bill, while the duty on butter and its substitutes and on cheese have been reduced.

The most important change made by the Senate committee in the House cotton schedule was to add a duty of 25 per cent upon cotton cloth, when combined, bleached, dyed, mordanted or colored. In this the Senate committee followed the example of the House in its dealing with cotton yarn. The Senate committee reduced the tariff on cotton yarn and spun yarn from 10 to 5 cents, and substituted the term "woven figured" for jacquard figures, where used in the bill.

The Senate bill puts flax, not huddled or dressed, and also flax, huddled or dressed, on the free list. It also reduces the rates on hemp and tow of hemp, and there are reductions in the duties on plain woven fabric of single jute yarn.

A reduction is made also on the duty on floor matting, and on carpets, and rugs made of flax, hemp or jute. It reduced the duty on bags and sacks, and on shirting cloth out of which handkerchiefs are made.

Silks were not materially changed as to rates, but equivalent specific rates were substituted for ad valorem in several of the important paragraphs.

Free List Additions.

The following are additions to the free list made by the Senate Committee over those in the Underwood bill:

Beet and sugar cane machinery.
Alizarin, natural or synthetic, and colors obtained from alizarin, anthracene and carbolol. Steel boxes. Plain woven fabric of single jute yarn by whatever name known, not chemically treated, and of any of the above articles, suitable for the manufacture of paper.

Modification of paragraph relating to books, maps, photographs, lithographic prints, and charts by eliminating "engravings, etchings" and words "bound or unbound." Paragraph relating to books amended by striking out words: "and pamphlets printed or copied in languages other than English; also books," and the following added: "and all text-books used in schools and other educational institutions."

Hand blast machines, sludge machines. Modification of cat-gut, whip gut and worm gut paragraph by striking out "un-manufactured" and adding word: "for surgical use."

Cement, Roman, Portland, and other hydraulic. Dead or creosote oil and anthracene and anthracene oil. Cryolite, or Kryptolite, modified by adding word "natural." Glass and engravers' diamonds, not cut, miners' diamonds and diamond dust. Crude artificial abrasives.

Flax, not huddled or dressed; flax, huddled or dressed line; tow of flax and flax hemp and tow of hemp; hemp huddled, known as "line of hemp." Amber in chips valued at not more than 50 cents per pound. Colors obtained from indigo.

Pig iron, iron kentledge, spiegelisen, wrought iron, and scrap and scrap steel; "but nothing shall be deemed scrap iron or scrap steel except second-hand or waste or refuse iron or steel fit only to be remanufactured; ferro-manganese; iron in slabs, blooms, loops, or other forms less finished than iron bars, and more advanced than pig iron, except castings."

Sole leather, leather board or compressed leather, grain, buff, and split leather, all dressed and upper leather including patent, Japanese, varnished or enameled upper leather and shoe lining leather; all of the foregoing for boot and shoe manufacturing purposes; leather cut into strips or other forms suitable for conversion into boots or shoes; betting, harness and saddle leather, leather waste, skins for morocco; tanned, but not finished and rough leather.

Limestone-rock asphalt, asphaltum, and bitumen; natural manganese or oxide and ore of manganese; needles for shoe machines, perilla, hemp and flax waste, flaked pearl.

Photographic films, sensitized, but not exposed or developed, and moving picture films. Cyanide of potassium and potassium remain free, but the Senate adds countervailing duty of 10 per cent.

Coniferous evergreen seedlings remain free, with the modification that they are "four years old or less." Cyanide of soda.

Steel ingots, coiled ingots, blooms and slabs, die blocks or blanks, and billets, if made by the Bessemer Siemens-Martin, open-hearth or similar processes, not containing alloy, such as nickel, cobalt, vanadium, chromium, tungsten, or wolfram, molybdenum, titanium, iridium, uranium, tantalum, boron, and similar alloy.

Strychnine, when in combination with acids, not dutiable when cattle, sheep and all domestic live animals suitable for human food, not otherwise provided for.

Wheat and wheat flour and semolina—Provided, that wheat shall be subject to a duty of 10 cents per bushel, that wheat flour shall be subject to a duty of 40 cents per barrel of 196 pounds, and semolina and other products of wheat 10 per centum ad valorem when imported directly or indirectly from a country, dependency, or other subdivision of government which imposes a duty on wheat or wheat flour or semolina or any other product of wheat imported from the United States.

PUJO INVESTIGATION

PAISED BY NEELEY

Kansas Representative Says Money Trust Inquiry at Least Caused Price of Coffee to Fall.

Declaring that the Money Trust investigation at an expense of $57,000 had accomplished an annual saving to the people of the United States of $20,000,000 by reducing the price of coffee over 2 cents a pound, Representative Neeley of Kansas, Democrat, yesterday urged the House to continue the inquiry.

Neeley asserted that the inquiry had developed evidence which resulted in crushing the Brazilian coffee combine, which had been exacting tribute from every coffee consumer in the country. This, in Neeley's opinion, was one of the many benefits arising from the inquiry. He declared that the recommendations of the Pujo committee for a Federal embargo on speculation in Wall Street and a restriction of the "pinks" who operate the New York clearing house should be enacted into law at the earliest possible opportunity.

Neeley declared greater publicity should be given to the findings of the committee, asserting that press agents who draw a salary of $25,000 a year from J. P. Morgan & Co. have conducted a systematic campaign to bring the committee into disrepute.

Neeley denounced the dissemination of an alleged letter from J. P. Morgan & Co. to the Money Trust committee. This letter contained many reckless statements, "yet 47,000 copies of this libel were sent broadcast throughout the United States to poison the business public against the honest and good intentions of this committee in an attempt to bolster up a system that is indefensible."

Neeley criticized the House Banking and Currency Committee for its inactivity. "Over 20 members of this House are killing time with nothing to do," he asserted. He declared they were willing to work and should be given the opportunity to make better use of their time.

LOYAL WOMEN SEEK HOME FOR WIDOWS

Legion Gives Entertainment to Aid in Raising Money—Representative Willis Delivers Address.

The Legion of Loyal Women gave an entertainment in Stanley Hall, at Soldiers' Home, last night to aid in raising a fund with which to build a home for soldiers' widows, where comfortable quarters can be furnished at rentals within the reach of slender pensions. About 700 people attended.

Representative Frank B. Willis of Ohio made the principal address. He commended the plans of the legion, and told of the large part that the women had to bear during the days of the civil war.

Mr. Willis was introduced to his hearers by William E. Andrews.
Mrs. Lizzie W. Calver, president of the Loyal Legion, made the opening address and introduced the chairman, Mrs. Ada H. Weiss. A musical program followed. Mrs. Bertha Lincoln Heustiss sang. She was accompanied by Mrs. Sue Burrows Jenkins. Claude Barrows played a violin solo. Vocal solos by Mrs. Stuart Johnson, Miss Margaret Howard and several selections by the United States Soldiers' Home Band, under the leadership of Prof. John K. M. Zimmerman, completed the program.

Red carnations, brought here from Ohio in honor of the speaker of the evening, were given to all the men. Each of the women who helped at the entertainment were given large bouquets.

PLANS FOR FOURTH.

Celebration to Be Held at Fort Bunker Hill.

Reports of arrangements for a Fourth of July celebration at Fort Bunker Hill were read last night at a meeting of chairmen and members of committees representing the Brookland, University Heights, and Rhode Island Avenue Suburban Citizens' Associations, at the home of C. P. Judge, president of the University Heights association.

It was announced by the grounds and decorations committee that Assistant Secretary of the Navy Franklin Roosevelt had granted the use of such flags as would be required for the celebration.

SEVEN YEARS' PENALTY.

Clayborne Adams Receives Sentence in Manslaughter Case.

Clayborne Adams, colored, who recently pleaded guilty to manslaughter in causing the death of another colored man by stabbing him, was sentenced yesterday by Justice Gould to serve seven years in the penitentiary.

Irving L. Burroughs, indicted for causing the death of Elwood H. Saller last March by hitting him in the head with his fist, pleaded not guilty when arraigned yesterday before Justice Gould. He was released on bond to await trial.

Guilty of murder in the second degree was the plea entered yesterday before Justice Stafford by Ernest McNeill, colored. McNeill was charged with first degree murder in causing the death of Sarah McNeill March 29 last. The government accepted the plea, and the prisoner was remanded for sentence.

Richard R. Horner Honored.

Richard R. Horner, who for the past six years has represented his race on the Board of Education, was presented last night at his home, 1821 Vernon Street Northwest, with a gold watch and fob, the gift of colored residents of the District. The presentation was made by Dr. G. D. Williams, who read a resolution, in which the colored member of the Board of Education, whose term expires shortly, was praised for his work.
